President's Corner

In our effort to support the Financial Fitness Resource Fair held on April 27th at Morgan's School of Business, we cancelled our April Community Meeting. The event was very well attended! Additionally, HRIA participated in Morgan's Public Safety Day on April 24th. There were lots of students and residents who participated—receiving plenty of free food from Northwood Commons' shop representatives and resource information from vendors. HRIA had a $25 gift card giveaway to the person who guessed or came closest to the number of jelly beans in the jar at our table.

Our May 25th HRIA Community Meeting will be on Zoom. We can be contacted at 443-824-1637 or hria3@yahoo.com.

Morgan K. Martin: "God Went To Art School"

*Come meet Baltimore City native Morgan K. Martin as she reads from her first book, "God Went To Art School."

This book is a collection of poetry about evolving, love, self, being black, being a girl/woman and the pain and the joy that comes with it. With hints of Nikki Giovanni and spoken word poet Jasmine Mans, these poems have teeth. This compilation of poetry can be used as a manifesto to navigate being a black girl. Martin lays her burdens down at the turn of each page. Each poem invites vulnerability, and releasing any pain that may have been born to us, given to us or shown to us. God Went to Art School takes you on a journey of pushing through, healing, remembering and a nuance to no longer sit on your hands.

14th District: City Councilwoman Odette Ramos

Lake Montebello Sinkhole Update

The Department of Public Works released a recent statement saying that they are working diligently on the sinkhole, but it is a dangerous situation for the workers. While we all hope this will be repaired and the loop will be fully open for pedestrian and cycle use, DPW is being extra cautious. The pipe in question is 80 feet deep and it is still used for storm water, and it has a river through it. The situation is unstable. Our priority is making sure the workers can go home at the end of the day. Councilwoman Ramos will provide an update as things progress. ~

BPD Launches Traffic Enforcement Initiative

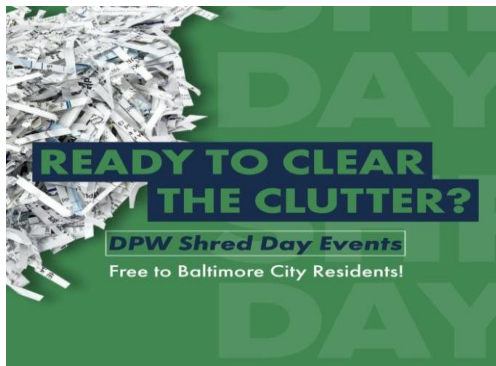

The Baltimore Police Department (BPD) announces its new city-wide traffic enforcement initiative effective March 29 and running through Aug. 16, 2024.

In an effort to reduce traffic accidents and fatalities, officers will be issuing citations to drivers who commit traffic violations.

The initiative is focused on areas where we have seen the highest concentration of fatal accidents and accidents with injury over the last three years. It will be evenly distributed across the city, with two to three locations selected per district.
